THE PROSPECTIVE FRUIT CROP.—A correspondent in the Washington Star, writing from Alexandria county, says: Allow me to say in regard to the prospective peach crop that up to this time there has been no unusual whatever from frost in any locality, one mile from the Aqueduct bridge; for this the thermometer, since the trees commenced coming into bloom, indicated a lower temperature than 31 degrees, which is a fact, which I have tested from experience, freezing does not result to vegetation and the mercury falls to 30 degrees, and not always then. Indeed, several years ago, when late in April, the thermometer indicated 25 degrees, with the peach trees in full bloom, there was no frost or injury to the fruit, the weather being dry. The crop was heavy, and if I mistake not, it was on the 29th of April of that year that it showed continuously the whole day. This fall of snow was followed by a windy night and pleasant weather afterwards. If we should have frost now, unless unusually severe, no injury would result, as the fruit is too far advanced. No ice has been seen at my place since about the middle of March, and we are early here. In regard to fruit, however, it is a well established fact that full crops only occur on alternate years, and as the last year's crop was a very heavy one a light one may be expected the present year. When I refer to injury from frost in this locality I include all descriptions of fruit. I am on high ground the most favorable for fruit trees; hence my immunity from the danger of frost incidental to lower situations.

DEATH OF MR. WM. BAKER.—Wm. Baker, an old and highly respected citizen died at his residence, on the corner of Duke and Pitt streets, in this city, this morning, at the hour of five and six o'clock, after a short but painful illness, of a complication of diseases. Mr. Baker has been feeble in health for some time, but there were no fears entertained of his early death, until April 10th when he was suddenly attacked with the illness that resulted in his death this morning. The deceased was born in Shenandoah county, Va., in 1812, and consequently he was in the 68th year of his age. When a young man he removed from his native county to Upper Virginia, Partridge county, where he spent the best part of his life, engaged in a mercantile business. From Upper Virginia he came to this city in 1846, arriving here on the day the citizens were celebrating the rescue of the last remaining Alexandria to Virginia. He has been engaged in the dry goods business, which he conducted for some years. For more than forty years the deceased was a consistent member of the Baptist church, and was recognized by all who knew him as an honest and upright gentleman. His funeral will take place from his late residence to morrow afternoon at four o'clock.

W. Mallet, of the University of Virginia, and K. Kemper and Julian Taylor, who had before this morning the English graduating class of St. John's Academy, who submitted answers to questions in Latin, pure mathematics, chemistry, and medicine.

S. G. Brent, esq., conducting the examination. A large number of witnesses were examined, and after the hearing of the testimony, the case was dismissed as the evidence was not sufficient to criminate any one, although it was proved that the officers had been committed by some one.

The case of Mr. Clarette, E. Fench, for firing a pistol on the streets, was dismissed, as the evidence proved that the firing was entirely accidental on the part of Mr. Fench.

DEATH OF AN ESTIMABLE LADY.—Mrs. E. J. J. Garrett, mother in law of Mrs. K. Kemper, died to-day after an illness of only a few hours, at the residence of K. Kemper, esq., in this city. Watson, of Charlottesville, and Hon. J. W. C. Watson, of Holly Spring, Miss., who represented that State in the Confederate States Senate. Mrs. Garrett was a most estimable lady, and the news of her sudden death will be received with regret by her numerous friends throughout the State.

A SAD CASE.—A very vivid incident, corroborative of the vanity of human hopes and aims, was presented on Royal street this morning, where an old colored woman's household utensils had been removed from a house on which she had paid a large portion of the purchase money, but whose husband having died ere all the instalments could be paid, the estate, though apparently cruel, had to be entered. No doubt every means and plenty of time had been allowed her by her creditors, and she probably endeavored earnestly to pay all, but, like many other well disposed people, had to witness her exertions come to naught.

HYMENIAL.—Mr. Romulus W. Boyer, formerly an employee of this office, but more recently of the Piedmont Virginia, appeared to-day in Washington, before R. V. Jessé D. Starr, with Miss Victoria T. ## CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 22 1880
SENATE.

Mr. Baldwin introduced a bill authorizing the Construction of a bridge across the District river. Ref. read.

Mr. Morrill submitted a resolution instructing the Committee on Printing to take such measures as shall be necessary from the permanent Congressional Record what purposes to be a comprehensive record of the proceedings of the House and Senate, and to be in the House of Representatives. [This referred to the poem of Mr. D. W. C. L.]

Mr. Salisbury thought that the House having authorized the poem to be printed, the Senate could not in a courtesy interfere.

Mr. Morrill said the Senate would have to bear part of the reputation, good or bad, of authorizing this production.

Mr. Hanlon said the Committee on Printing was a joint committee and nothing could be done without consulting the House. He hoped this affair would result in future exclusion of speeches and other productions not as usually delivered in Congress.

Mr. Morrill said that since offering the resolution he had learned that the House was considering the matter. He therefore withdrew his resolution.

The morning hour having expired the Senate resumed consideration of the errand bill.

Mr. Salisbury gave notice that as soon as this bill is disposed of, he will call up the Kellogg-Spofford report.

Mr. Withers, who reported the bill, said that while the bill as it came from the House did not exactly meet the views of perhaps a majority of the Senate Committee on Appropriations they had decided not to propose any amendments. In view of the fact that the session was far advanced and but one appropriation bill had been passed, the committee did not wish to take any action likely to delay the passage of the bill. The bill was then read.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

A rather singular scene occurred in the House this morning. In the "Record" there appears a speech in black verse entitled, "The Immortals" which is copyrighted by Mr. Downey, of Wyoming, and which purports to be in support of his bill providing for the painting of Biblical pictures on the walls of the Capitol.

Mr. Garfield, of Ohio, called attention to this fact and moved that the speech be referred to the Committee on Rules to inquire whether it is competent for a member to copyright his speech putting out at the same time the danger which might attend such a practice.

Mr. Downey replied that he had the opinion of the Librarian of Congress upon the competency of his copyrighting his work. He had no objection, however, to Mr. Garfield's motion.

Mr. Cooper, of Michigan, however, did oppose it as a rather amusing speech in which he intimated that Mr. Garfield was conscious of the rising young poet.

The yeas and nays were ordered on Mr. Garfield's motion. During the roll call the members separated into groups, the singular speech being the sole topic of conversation.

The motion was then agreed to—yeas 119, nays 105.

The Speaker laid before the House a message from the President in regard to the presentation of the desk on which the Declaration of Independence was written.

The resolution was unanimously adopted thanking the donors.

Mr. Price, of Iowa, from the Committee on Banking and Currency reported a bill repealing the stamp tax on checks. Referred to the Committee of the Whole.

The House then at 1.30 went into Committee of the Whole (Mr. Hooker, of Miss., in the chair) on the Naval Appropriation bill.
